

50+ Ideas for picking a great scrapbook title/ headline

Though a recent trend in scrapping is moving away from the traditional headline or page title, many of us still like to put a headline on our spreads. Sometimes we are feeling more imaginative than others; sometimes the photos really demand a certain title. Sometimes we are limited to the size or length of the headline.

Typical headlines often include:

- Place names
- Event names or dates
- Children's names, family names
- Relationship names (mother, father, daddy, etc)
- Single words such as sunshine, garden, baby, wedding
- Generic emotive or feeling words like happy, smile, beautiful, love
- Seasonal words or short phrases

Consider these unusual page starters:

- A song or movie title
- Something your child said, spelled phonetically
- A single word repeated three times
- The punchline to a family joke
- A grade (like from a report card)
- A hashtag (Twitter)
- A monogram
- A nickname
- Opposites on either page
- Scrabble-style crossword
- A favorite item
- A Chinese proverb
- ABC's or 123's
